

BUTTE NEWS.
TWO DIVORCE CASES
Mary Satterlee Judicially Relieved of Her Husband.
A TRIP TO THE SPRINGS

The Case of the Ryans in Which the Father is Accused of Non-Support—Time Will Settle the Farraday Troubles.

Judge Lindsay heard the proofs in several divorce cases yesterday and granted judicial relief to two complaining women. One of the cases was that of Mary R. Satterlee against Joseph Satterlee, in which Lottie Quigley, a Casino performer, figured as co-respondent. Satterlee is one of the proprietors of the M. & M. saloon. Mrs. Satterlee testified that they were married in San Francisco in August, 1887. She said she had long suspected that her husband was too intimate with Lottie, but she got no proof of it until she met the young woman one day in a wine room of the M. & M. "She asked me my name and I told her," said Mrs. Satterlee in her testimony yesterday. "She asked me several times and I finally said, 'I am Spot's wife. I guess you know him,' but she said she did not know him. I knew better, however, and left the room and went into another to listen to what she would say." Mrs. Satterlee said her husband was down at the springs at the time and she intended to go down, too, that evening.

"I heard her tell someone that was going down to the springs to meet Spot," said Mrs. Satterlee, continuing her testimony relative to what she heard in the wine room. "She was talking to some man and he told her she would better look out, as Spot's wife was going down on the same train. The woman replied: 'To hell with his wife; what do I care for her?'"

Mrs. Satterlee did not tell what happened then or how the trip to the springs came out. A bartender at the Monte Cristo, however, testified that he had seen Satterlee and the frail Quigley woman occupy the same room one night in that house of shady reputation. A Mr. Flynn had also seen them in situations most compromising. Mrs. Satterlee got her decree of divorce.

The other divorce case heard was that of Mary Ryan against Thomas Ryan. Mrs. Ryan testified that she was married to the defendant in September, 1888, and that they have lived in Butte ever since. They have four children, two of whom are still living and are in the Sisters' home in Helena. Her husband left her two years ago and since that time has contributed nothing to the support of herself and children, although he has been working right along in Butte.

"What did you do to cause him to leave you?" Mrs. Ryan was asked. "I did nothing that I know of," said she.

Several other witnesses testified that Mrs. Ryan has for some time been supporting herself and children. A default was entered in a case of Sullivan against Sullivan and the proofs were set for hearing next Saturday.

In Judge Clancy's court the old-time of Adam Farraday against Ida Farraday was called to be set for trial, but it was announced that Adam was in the East and very sick and would probably never need the divorce and upon that statement the case was passed.

ORDINANCE VIOLATED.
A Business Man Called Down by Street Commissioner Brannigan.

Street Commissioner Brannigan had a trifling encounter yesterday morning in attempting to enforce the ordinance prohibiting the throwing of refuse in the street. Just after the street sweeper had passed, Captain Brannigan caught a West Broadway business man throwing a lot of sweepings into the street. He did not desist when he was ordered to, and the street commissioner seized him by the arm and just as he did so the man's partner threw a box at him. Neither man was damaged, however, in the brief encounter. Captain Brannigan is determined that the ordinance which prohibits the littering of the streets with refuse shall be enforced to the letter and Mayor Harrington is urging him on in the stand he has taken. The ordinance referred to is very strict, and while it may take a few arrests to teach the public the law it will be rigorously enforced.

ENTERTAINED BY I. O. F.
An Excellent Programme, Every Number of Which Received Applause.

One of the finest entertainments of the season was given Friday evening at Elks' hall by the Independent Order of Foresters. The attendance was exceptionally large, and each number on the programme received hearty applause. A feature of the evening was J. Nat. Londoner in impersonations of celebrated actors, the most noteworthy being that of Henry Irving and Richard Mansfield. Mr. Londoner gave the last act of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," which was a very clever imitation of Mr. Mansfield's rendition. Professor Kern gave the address of welcome and Dr. T. B. Moore made an eloquent speech on the order. The entertainment was followed by a dance, after which refreshments were served.

Card of Thanks.
We, the trustees of the A. M. E. church, are more grateful than words can express for the kindness of Messrs. Hoge, Brownlee & Co., the holders of Ticket No. 70 which drew the lot recently raffled for the benefit of the church for donating the same back to the church. May prosperity continue its blessings upon them.

William Birthright, chairman; D. W. Walton, treasurer; D. B. Faw, secretary; G. W. Willis, R. P. Jackson, S. Merchant, W. E. Grant, R. S. Grant, board of trustees.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Murphy, wife of Philip Murphy, will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the residence at No. 721 Colorado street, and will proceed to the Scandinavian church. It will be under the direction of Undertaker Richards.

DECORATION DAY.
G. A. R. and W. R. C. Making Preparations to Appropriately Observe It.

The officers of Lincoln Post No. 2, G. A. R., in conjunction with the W. R. C., are making preparations for the proper observance of Decoration day, but as yet the programme of exercises has not been fully prepared. As Memorial day is coming this year on Sunday, it has been decided to postpone the observance of the annual event until the following day in accordance with general orders issued by Department Commander Thaddeus C. Davidson at Ancon, Tenn. There will doubtless be a parade and a pilgrimage to the cemetery in which the public schools and the various civic societies will be invited to participate. At the cemetery brief services, in accordance with the beautiful and impressive Grand Army ritual, will be held, and the graves, where sleep some of the nation's heroic dead, garlanded with flowers. The afternoon exercises will probably take place at the Auditorium, for which a splendid programme is being prepared. There will be vocal and instrumental music, recitations and orations. On the morning of the 31st there will be an annual inspection of the Butte battalion, Montana National Guard, by Lieut. R. B. Wallace of Helena. Lieutenant Wallace is a member of the Second cavalry, U. S. A., and adjutant general of the M. N. G. For the purpose of inspection the regimental staff, non-commissioned staff, regimental band, and Companies B, F and G, will assemble at the armory at 10 o'clock in fatigue dress. Major B. H. Cook will take command of the battalion. After inspection the troop will be reviewed by Gov. Robert B. Smith, commander in chief of the M. N. G.

MOYLE INJURED.
A Meaderville Miner More Scared Than Hurt in the Ground Squirrel.

William Moyle, a Meaderville miner, was injured in the Ground Squirrel about 9:30 o'clock last night, and is now at Murray & Freund's hospital. He was working in a stope on the 200-foot level, when a quantity of rock broke loose from the hanging wall and struck him on the head and back, producing several severe scalp wounds and bruising his back. When removed to the hospital he was scared nearly to death and took on at a great rate, but after the blood had been washed off his face and his wounds dressed he quieted down and took the physician's word for it that he was not fatally injured.

There will be a fair at the A. M. E. church, corner Idaho and Mercury, beginning Monday and continuing through the week. Lunch will be served each evening with ice cream.

Baby shoes, 25 cents, at the shoe sale, 25 West Park. John Tassel.

The Northern Pacific is the short line. It also is the fastest to St. Paul, Chicago, Boston and New York. You will save nearly six hours in time to all Eastern points by using this line. Ticket office, 23 East Broadway, Butte.

JOHNNIE KEATING WON.
Held the Lucky Number and Got a $100 Bicycle.

The happiest boy in the whole state of Montana last night was Johnnie Keating, who lives at 242 East Broadway. He held the lucky number in the Good Luck Shoe and Clothing company's fourth distribution of $100 bicycles and as a result he is the proud owner to-day of as fine a wheel as there is in the city of Butte. The next distribution of high-grade bicycles by the Good Luck company will take place after the close of business Saturday, May 29th. A $100 bicycle ticket is given with every dollar spent at their store.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

Suit Probably to Be Brought Against Sureties on Johnson's Bond

AN OLD EXPLOSION CASE

Information Filed—Casey's Trial Set for June 26—Judge Clancy's Docket—Other Legal Business.

The county attorney yesterday received instructions from the commissioners to use "all legal means" to recover the deficiency in the county clerk's office created by the defalcation of C. O. Johnson. Suit will probably be at once brought against the sureties on the bond given by Johnson during his first term of office.

An information was filed against Thomas Winwood charging him with committing an assault in the second degree on George Claythorn on April 11. The defendant was not present and will be arraigned next week.

On request of the county attorney the names of William Scillon, W. W. Dixon, James A. Murray and W. O. Speers were endorsed on the information against S. M. Nixon as witnesses for the state.

Owing to the absence of defendant's attorney sentence in the case of the state against Tom Murray was postponed. The case of the state against James D. Casey, charged with robbery, was reset for June 26.

The motion for a new trial for C. M. Oliver was continued for hearing until next Saturday.

Another suit, growing out of the old explosion cases, was brought in the district court yesterday by Joseph Milano, one of the victims of the explosion, and a judgment creditor against the Kenyon-Connell Commercial company. His attorney, Joel A. Shelton, is also a plaintiff in the suit brought yesterday, and the defendants are the Montana Hardware company and R. D. Poindexter. The only property the explosion judgment creditors could get hold of was the lot upon which the warehouses stood, and that was sold under execution and redeemed by Milano, who deeded a half interest to his attorney. The Montana Hardware company is the successor of the Kenyon-Connell company, and Milano complains that the defendants on the 20th of last January took unlawful possession of his property, and he asks for judgment against them for $10 a month for the whole time it has been occupied.

Judge Lindsay also called his calendar yesterday and set these cases for trial: June 1, George H. Casey vs. Andrew Anderson et al.; June 2, H. L. Haupt et al. vs. Elies Simington et al.; June 3, W. H. Johnson vs. Malvina Mitchell et al., state vs. James E. Keiton, J. W. Shackleton vs. A. M. C. chapel; June 4, Julia Wehrspan vs. J. H. Leyson, administrator; W. W. Witmer vs. J. B. Knight; Louise A. Thornton et al. vs. Daniel McLeod.

The case of the Montana Hardware company against William J. Johnston and others was yesterday dismissed without prejudice and in the case of the same plaintiff against J. Johnston, the court made an order appointing a keeper for a lot of mining property held under attachment.

The case of James Cassidy against Jeremiah Roach and others, involving a quartz claim valued at $50,000, was reinstated yesterday upon the statement of the plaintiff's attorney that he was prevented from attending court on account of illness.

The Rider & Wallis company yesterday brought suit against T. M. Adams for $508.24 claimed to be due on a note executed at Earlville, Iowa, some years ago.

It was announced yesterday that Judge Brantly would probably occupy Judge Lindsay's bench in Department I. on June 1 and 2, when several matters will be heard in which Judge Lindsay is disqualified from hearing for the reason that he formerly appeared as attorney in the cases.

Judge Clancy yesterday set the following civil cases for trial:

May 24—Fanny Dawson vs. the Singer Manufacturing company, J. A. Murray vs. Elizabeth Walker, Nellie Muller vs. M. Mayer, Nellie Muller vs. Flora Mayer and M. Mayer, Fanny Matusevitz vs. C. S. Warren, Miners' Lumber company vs. Montana Loan & Realty company.

May 25—W. A. Clark vs. John A. Leggat, Lee Davenport vs. T. M. Adams, Teresa A. Holland vs. Michael C. Holland, T. J. Bordeaux vs. J. E. Doud, William H. Chambers vs. T. J. Bordeaux, A. F. Bray vs. S. J. Reynolds.

May 26—Joseph Cartier vs. Frank Ritchie, Pat Mullins vs. Butte Hardware company, M. H. Lucas vs. Hattie M. Smith, W. F. Kirkwood vs. Maggie Flynn, state of Montana ex rel. John E. Hull vs. William Ellsworth, Savin Lisa vs. Virgilio Bacc.

May 27—E. A. Dewar vs. Fred Scher, Mutual Collection company vs. L. P. Miles, W. H. Black vs. S. J. Reynolds, John McBridge vs. R. E. Jacobs, T. J. Murray vs. Mrs. Hens.

May 28—First National bank vs. Twin City Butte Mining company.

May 29—Trenton Oil company vs. J. H. Leyson.

June 5—Lee W. Foster vs. Jefferson McCauley.

June 18—James Cassidy vs. Jeremiah Roach et al.

The cases of Michael M. Gordon against O. J. McConnell and R. M. Cobban against the B. & P. Railway company were dismissed as settled.

IN DESPERATE STRAITS.
A Father Steals Wood and Hauls Entrails to His Family in a Stolen Wagon.

Frank Farr, who lives near the race track, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Boyce on a charge of petit larceny. He is accused of having stolen a wagon from J. C. Dolan, a rancher on the flat, and was found with the vehicle returning home from the slaughter house with a load of entrails. Farr recently served a short term in the city jail for stealing a colored man's wood pile and has a large family of small children. The father was in a starving condition. The father was taking the entrails home for the purpose of feeding his family.
